

 Viva CalleSJ May 19, 2019

Planned months in advance, today's finally the day for the street festival!

It finally clears after a cold and rainy morning -- but there are more dark clouds on the horizon.

Rain! Heavy rain! Very unusual here in May!
And lightning -- very unusual at any time in San Jose!

... and a salesman tries to entice us out from our shelter.

The end of the route ...

... we made it.

It cleared up as we headed back.

Passing a Party Bike parked at a Bike Party booth.

Bicycles, scooters, strider bikes, bikes with training wheels, even a unicycle.

The weather's improved: let's take the branch route to downtown.

Mistake -- yet another rain shower! Enough -- let's get back home!